

Camouflage

White teeth symbol of deceit jeered a Liberian man like pale of palms used to defeat unseat man is what he hides a cave where he abides

A truth but half hurts most words into things will pass Has betrayal an inside host Flight not does nature change

Honesty so difficult to swallow shocking hollow yet guile is soft so smooth is it the sugar coating or its ability to soothe

Born with a baby face we drape it scrape it shape it to its truth replace

A leopard hides behind its spots politicos behind suit and tie a soldier behind his stripes we paste together bits so sly

Folly illusions lies and feigned humility feather size is not disguise it is nature adapting to be it is us it is you it is me
