

You Have Your Way

You have your way and I have my way
In marriage only talking will last listening was the first one to pass
Madness is in love as love is in madness
The madness of love of which so little can be said Ones that go look for an ugly world then label it bad create an ugly world not needing labeling at all I've loved danger
I've loved play
Oh, Woman
I know now why I loved you Suffering starts and marriage ends only our shared joys made us friends There is no faith in a relationship not if one desires to know what is true You lied much and I lied much lying together
Our contorted facial expressions never lied at all You must ask a child
if sugar is sweet Know yourself she would say
If I knew myself I'd run away There only was one Christian so I've been told and he died on the post
There is no right way and no one way
You have your way and I have my way
